THE GLOBAL FUND
Office of the Inspector General

The Global Fund's Office of the Inspector General

Protecting the Global Fund's Impact

The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) ensures that the Global Fund maximizes its investments to accelerate the end of AIDS, tuberculosis (TB), and malaria. Since 2005, it has conducted audits, investigations, and oversight to promote best practices, mitigate risks, and address abuse. Reporting to the Board via the Audit and Finance Committee, the OIG is an independent entity within the Global Fund.

- We protect the Global Fund's assets, investments, reputation and sustainability
- We assess the organization's risk management, governance and internal controls
- We investigate alleged fraud, abuse, theft, corruption, sexual exploitation and abuse, and human rights violations within Global Fund programs
- We agree management actions, ensuring the organization takes the right measures and manages risks effectively in the fight against AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria
- We report to the Global Fund Board through the Audit and Finance Committee

70 Million
lives saved through the Global Fund partnership

Why is the Global Fund's work important?

The Global Fund is a worldwide partnership to defeat HIV, TB and malaria and ensure a healthier, safer, more equitable future for all. We raise and invest more than US$5 billion a year to fight the deadliest infectious diseases, challenge the injustice that fuels them, and strengthen health systems and pandemic preparedness in more than 100 of the hardest hit countries.

Where can I find out more?

Learn about fraud, abuse and human rights violations

Our e-learning site, www.ispeakoutnow.org, contains a wealth of case studies, animated videos and quizzes about the different kinds of wrongdoing that Global Fund grants are exposed to, as well as a practical toolkit to help grant implementers fight fraud and corruption.

Who we are

Our staff have extensive experience in a wide range of professions including public accounting and assurance, risk management, health, law and law enforcement. We have worked in development banks, United Nations agencies, government departments, management consulting and strategic advisory, NGOs and anti-corruption organizations, as well as national audit offices with mature Value for Money methodologies.

Our staff hold a variety of globally recognized professional certifications and qualifications, and include Certified Internal Auditors, Certified Fraud Examiners, Chartered Accountants, Risk and Project Management experts, holding degrees ranging from Masters in Public Health, to Business Administration and Law.

Our staff undergo extensive training annually to maintain their professional certifications and qualifications, as well as to develop strategic organizational priorities such as Value for Money.

51
Full-time equivalent

24
Primary nationalities

42%
Female

58%
Male

Global Fund Languages spoken by OIG staff

English	100%	Russian	4%
French	49%	Arabic	4%
Spanish	16%	Portuguese	2%

Donor Implementer

50%
Donor Countries

50%
Implementer Countries

378
Reports published

The Global Fund sets a high standard for transparency in the global health sector by making our Office's investigation and audit reports are available online for anyone to read. Since the adoption of the Disclosure Policy in 2007, we have published more than 378 audits, advisory and investigation papers.

Tracy Staines
Inspector General

"My office safeguards the assets, investment and reputation of the Global Fund – ensuring that we use grant funds as intended: to save lives. Although we focus on material risks, a big part of our work is to go to the last mile, visiting health centers, hospitals and warehouses to ensure we are taking the right action to accelerate the end of the three diseases, and to guard against fraud and abuse. We report on our activities in the interest of transparency and accountability.

How to contact us

If you suspect wrongdoing connected with Global Fund grants, please tell us. You can email us at hotline@theglobalfund.org or access our online form at www.ispeakoutnow.org

Reporting to the Office of the Inspector General is secure and safe, and we will keep your identity confidential.

Our reporting channels are available in English, French, Spanish and Russian.